Your business on one page

Creator OS turns the scattered mess of running a creator business — ideas, content, launches, money — into one calm system. This guide walks you through setting it up in an afternoon.

The four modules

- Content pipeline: idea → draft → scheduled → published.
- Launch tracker: every product, its status, and its numbers.
- Money dashboard: what came in, in MBITE, this month.
- Audience hub: who your people are and what they asked for.

Set it up in an afternoon

Duplicate the template, delete what you don’t need, and wire the four databases together with the provided relations. Start with content — it is the engine that feeds everything else.

> A system you actually use beats a perfect system you abandon. Keep it boring and keep it daily.

Run your week

Every Monday: pull three ideas into drafts. Every day: ship one small thing. Every Friday: update the money dashboard and pick next week’s launch. That’s the whole ritual.
